From the Top the (Trash) Mountain

be-tank

Have you visited a landfill in Indonesia? What did you see? Some of you may answer "the trash mountain", a sad fact we have in Indonesia.

However, do you know how it feels to be on top of the trash mountain?

Our gift makers are up to a special project related to waste and we would love to share it with you once it's ready! Stay tuned

The Biogas Digester Journey : Easy, Flexible and ...

Is it okay to install a lot of biogas? No it is not a problem at all", stated by our CEO in his current blog article. Speaking of production, which one do you think better? Mass production or small amount of production?

One of the products we have at su-re.co is our biogas digester. So far, we have installed 25 biogas digesters in Bali and East Nusa Tenggara and currently receiving some requests. As our biogas is very flexible, and easy to carry, we can deliver more than one biogas at once or even ship it for the local communities to install it themselves! However, these benefits did not come instantly. Through countless of experiments, we keep improving our biogas digester since 2016.

Our very first biogas was made of a bucket then transformed into biogas bag. This foldable biogas make it even easier to be transported and can store more biogas. Now, our biogas digester can store 1 m³ of gas.

Currently, we are improving our 7th prototype by trying new materials and testing out new ideas. Stay tuned for the updates!
